Steve Haston may have climbed either Granny Smith or Galileo's Balls in 1988. Gary Lewis remembers persuading Steve to have a go at an acutely overhanging line. While Gary was sorting out the belay Steve began climbing but then slipped off and plunged headfirst into the sea. Weighed down with gear, Steve resembled a lead weight and Gary had some trouble landing him onto the belay ledge. In true hero style, Steve shook the off excess water and led the bulging wall (Gary did not follow).
